Important information you must read.

Student support is normally only paid while you are in full-time attendance on your course. We will stop payments and recover any resulting overpayments if your institution tells us you have not enrolled or are no longer attending your course. We will not pay any tuition fees if your institution tells us you have not enrolled or were no longer attending your course before the tuition fee cut-off date; 01 Dec 2018.

If you have attended part of your course, your institution may still charge you tuition fees and you will be liable to meet this cost.

You must tell us immediately if you:

- change course, institution or year of study
- withdraw from your course or suspend your studies
- change your permanent or term-time address
- change your bank details (through your online account)
- did not apply for your full amount of loan for living costs and you now want to apply for the balance

If we pay you more than you are due, you must pay this back.

Good luck with your studies.
